

Allenton Primary Spring 1

NEWSLETTER

Can you believe that we're already half-way through the year?! This half term has been short but filled with lots of learning and adventures. Children have been involved in special weeks such as the Mental Health week and Storytelling week. There have been trips to places such as Bakewell, the Museum of Making and the Lea Green residential for Year 6. We don't let the weather stop us - we just make sure we have the right outfits!

Our community

There have been lots of opportunities for parent/carer involvement this half term, including visiting the Wellbeing Fair, attending the Brass Concert, meetings about the Multiplication Tables Check and taking part in Class activities.

We have also raised awareness for the NSPCC through the Number Day (fabulous outfits!), as well as raising money for the school council to put towards child-led projects through the cake sale.

We continue to look for ways to keep you informed, involved and to work together to help the children to achieve their potential.

Important Dates

Monday 23rd February - first day back at school
